GitHub Copilot provides developers with an AI pair programmer that works with all popular programming languages. Using GitHub Copilot dramatically accelerates the overall productivity of developers. In recent research, GitHub and Microsoft found that developers experience a significant productivity boost when working on real-world projects and tasks using GitHub Copilot.

GitHub Copilot is available as an extension for Visual Studio Code, Visual Studio, Vim/Neovim, and the JetBrains suite of integrated development environments (IDEs).

GitHub Copilot subscription plans

GitHub offers several plans for GitHub Copilot, depending on your needs and whether you're using Copilot as an individual or as part of an organization or enterprise.

- GitHub Copilot Free is available to individual developers who don't have access to Copilot through an organization or enterprise. This free plan includes limited access to select Copilot features, allowing you to try AI-powered coding assistance at no cost.
- GitHub Copilot Pro is designed for individuals who want more flexibility. This paid plan includes unlimited completions, access to premium models in Copilot Chat, and a monthly allowance of premium requests. Verified students, teachers, and maintainers of popular open source projects may be eligible for free access.
- GitHub Copilot Pro+ offers the highest level of access for individual developers. In addition to everything in Copilot Pro, this plan includes a larger allowance of premium requests and full access to all available models in Copilot Chat. Ideal for AI power users who want access to the most advanced capabilities.
- GitHub Copilot Business is for organizations on GitHub Free or GitHub Team plan, or enterprises on GitHub Enterprise Cloud. This plan enables centralized management and Copilot policy control for organization members.
- GitHub Copilot Enterprise is for enterprises using GitHub Enterprise Cloud. It includes all the features of Copilot Business, plus additional enterprise-grade capabilities. Enterprise owners can assign either Copilot Enterprise or Copilot Business to individual organizations.
