

30,000-feet view

means looking at something in the broadest sense.

80/20

means finding the way that will lead to the most progress with the least amount of work.

adjourn

is to officially announce the end of a meeting

B2B

means "Business to Business", which typically references a company that sells something to another organization.

B2C

means "Business to Consumer", which typically references a company that sells something to an individual.